Generation No. 1

1. JOHN¹ HENDRY was born Abt. 1720, and died in While walking to his hat shop, he stepped on a pin and died from blood poisoning..

Notes for JOHN HENDRY:

One of Loren's "Which Hendrys" was about the California (winery) Hendrys and it was based on an email from Andrew Hendry to Carolee, which Carolee had forwarded to Loren. Loren gave the email printout to me and I have done a little web research on the situation. Andrew knows about the Arran roots for most US Hendrys and assumes the same for his branch, but he actually traces his line to Northern Ireland in 1613, to Scottish protestants who settled in Northern Ireland after the flight of the Irish Chieftains in 1607.

With these clues from Andrew, I found:

http://www.electricscotland.com/books/paterson/scots_irish.htm

Here are a few excerpts from this website with my connecting comments indented:

In March 1603, the same month that James VI of Scotland began James I of England and Ireland, the earls of Tyrone and Tyrconnel, chiefs of the O'Neills and the O'Donnells, the leading families of the ancient province of Ulster, surrender to the English. Thus concluded the Nine Years War, the latest in a long line of struggles to arrest the steady expansion of English power in Ireland

Then James began to settle the conquered Ulster land with Englishmen and Scotsmen, mostly Scots because the climate was more like Scotland.

A second and more significant opportunity came in September 1607. Although Hugh O'Neil, Earl of Tyrone, and Hugh O'Donnell, Earl of Tyrconnel, had made their peace with the government some years before, they had been subject to almost continual harassment by the Dublin authorities. Fearing for their safety, the two chiefs left for the continent, never to return, an episode famous in Irish history as 'The Flight of the Earls.' James now had huge territories in central and western Ulster: Hamilton and Montgomery's free enterprise scheme was supplemented by the Plantation of Ulster. Land was granted to men known as 'undertakers', who pledged themselves to bring over settlers from England and Scotland;

Thus, it would seem that Andrew's antecedents could have emigrated from Arran to Ulster in the 1603 -- 1607 -- 1613 time frame and from there to America.

Notes for ALFRED IVERSON HENDRY:

Alfred Iverson Hendry was probably named for Alfred Iverson, Sr., who was born in 1798 in Liberty County. Robert Hendry, Jr., Alfred Iverson Hendry's father, was fourteen years old when his family moved to Taylor's Creek in Liberty County in 1801. They stayed there except for a brief hiatus, returning in 1803. By the time, Alfred Iverson Hendry was born in 1834, Alfred Iverson, Sr., had been in the Georgia State Legislature and was destined to become a US Senator from Georgia (1855-1861). Time and location suggest a family relationship resulting in the naming of our family father.

Cooper (son of Wyman and Lorraine Hendry Williams; brother of Leland) and Barbara Williams will, in a few days, get the colored and framed print of the 1911 photo of Alfred Iverson and family (see Scrapbook). They plan to restore the print. -- Leland Hendry Williams, 4 Nov 2010

WEDDING BELLS

Last Wednesday evening as the clock struck seven, the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth from the organ in Hinesville Church. In came Mr. Nat Hendry and Miss Lula Bagley, Mr. Lonnie Daniel and Miss Nellie Hendry, Mr. Robert Ryon and Miss Lula DeLoach, Mr. Joe Way and Miss Leila Hendry, Mr. John Caswell and Miss Annie Daniel, Mr. Joe Norman and Miss Minnie Bird. Then came Mr. James R. Bagley with the blushing bride, Miss Eva Hendry, leaning on his arm. The notes of the organ died away, and Rev. T.D. Strong arose and, in an impressive manner, pronounced the fatal words which made them man and wife. Again the swelling notes of the wedding march were heard and the bridal couple, followed by the attendants, entered the carriages and repaired to the residence of the bride's Father, Dr. A.I. Hendry, where an elegant collation awaited them.

The Church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers, tastily and skillfully arranged. At the entrance of each isle was an arch of evergreen decorated with white roses with the letter H depending from one and B from the other. Just above the heads of the bridal couple there hung suspended a gigantic horseshoe made of rich and rare flowers. Miss May Belle Bradwell presided at the organ, and Mr. Miller Williams of Milledgeville officiated as usher.

Mr. Bagley is a resident of Milledgeville and is a well known commercial traveler. The bride is a daughter of Dr. A.I. Hendry, the resident physician of Hinesville, and has a host of friends, all of whom wish her the most abundant happiness.
